

Fundraising Your Way to Alternative Winter Break 2019

Shalom!

This guide has been put together by the Young Judaea Alternative Winter Break team, with the goal of helping teens fundraise in order to attend YJ's AWB program. We hope that some of these fundraising ideas will allow you join us on AWB without straining your family's finances and give you some independence.

AWB is not only about attending the service trip, but also becoming an active advocate for the causes AWB promotes: rebuilding after disasters, protecting the environment, fighting poverty, visiting the sick, etc. This guide will help equip you with the tools you need to go out and persuade those in your communities to invest in the work that you are doing this December and beyond.

One of the central portions of this guide is setting up a personal fundraising page, similar to a "go fund me" page. If you set up one of these pages, you can raise as much as you need for the program and flights and Young Judaea will match up to $100.

If you have any questions, please be in contact with Young Judaea at winterbreak@youngjudaea.org or by phone at (917) 595-2100 ex 219.

Shalom, good luck and see you on AWB!

Classy is an innovative, easy to use personal fundraising website. Through the website you can create a profile and solicit your friends on Facebook, and other social media sites, to contribute to their fundraising effort.

HOW DO I USE CLASSY?

It's super easy! Just follow these instructions!

HOW DOES MONEY GET TRANSFERRED FROM CLASSY TO AWB?

When you fundraise through Classy, THROUGH OUR FUNDRAISER, the money (minus a small processing fee) will be directly transferred to Young Judaea in your name.

Even if you have already paid for the trip you can still fundraise and Young Judaea will reimburse you for the amount you raised online. Additionally, you might want to continue to raise funds for your flight as well.

Young Judaea will match $100 of the first 20 people to raise 100$!

HOW DO I SET IT UP? IT'S SIMPLE...

PART 1: SIGN UP FOR CLASSY

1. Go to <https://donate.youngjudaea.org/campaign/alternative-winter-break-2019-puerto-rico/c250601>
2. Click on the blue button that says "set up a personal page"
3. Click on the option "As an individual" and Create an Account!
4. Choose your fundraising goal and write your individual headline. (These are auto-populated, but you can adjust your fundraising goal and spice up your headline). You can also make your own URL. We suggest something like: joejudaeaanawb.

and VOILA, YOU'RE SIGNED UP ON CLASSY!

You can then send your link to all of your friends and family.
And finally... SHARE ON FACEBOOK, TWITTER & EMAIL AND GET THE WORD OUT!

If you are serious about fundraising for your trip, you need to do a bit of research and really think about why you want to go. Here is some general information about Hurricane Maria:

- Hurricane Maria was like a 50-mile-wide tornado that made a direct hit on the Island and caused an estimated 100 billion dollars in damage
- When Maria hit, 60,000 people were already without electricity from Hurricane Irma which passed by on September 7th.
- Maria was the 5th-strongest storm ever to hit the US and the strongest to hit the Island in 80 years.
- Puerto Rico had been in a recession for over a decade with almost ½ the residents living under the poverty line.
- The storm knocked out 80% of the island's power transmission lines.
- There were over 4,600 deaths reported (updated May 2018)
- As of July 16th, there were still 1,000 households without power.

Go to the AWB page on the Young Judaea website to find out more information about what we'll be doing in Puerto Rico - <https://www.youngjudaea.org/year-round/social-action-programs-campaigns/alternative-winter-break/>

This video was created to try and show people why Young Judaea is going to Puerto Rico – <https://youtu.be/rKiL4JwkYEk>. This video was created by National Pirsum, Izzy Canning, documenting the trip last year <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LkrJiwM014c>. Feel free to use these videos in your fundraising efforts.

GENERAL SUGGESTIONS TO GUIDE YOUR FUNDRAISING EFFORTS

Getting Started:

- ⇒ SET A GOAL. How much money do you hope to raise?
- ⇒ BE CREATIVE. Use these ideas in this packet to get you started, but don't limit yourself solely to these suggestions.
- ⇒ BE SMART. Make sure your fundraising effort does not require you to invest more money than you are likely to raise.
- ⇒ MAKE A PLAN. Break down your project into separate tasks and create a timeline. Remember that some people or organizations will take some time in writing and mailing checks to you.

Your Outreach Efforts:

- ⇒ COLLABORATE. If you know of other teens in your community who are also attending AWB, you can work together to create a program, send group solicitation letters, etc.
- ⇒ KNOW YOUR AUDIENCE. Highlight the aspect of the trip that would be interesting to your supporters and create a 'pitch' appropriate to sell your cause.
- ⇒ PROVIDE INFORMATION. Make sure you have information about the organizations you are working with
- ⇒ BE SPECIFIC. Explicitly describe why participating in the AWB program is important to you and those around you
- ⇒ FOLLOW UP. Outline what you will do in your community upon your return (i.e. speaking to other groups, running a program about what you learned, etc.)

Following Up on Support:

- ⇒ Acknowledge contributions immediately. You may want to prepare a template thank you note, so you can send this to any person(s) or organization(s) that support your experience.
- ⇒ Offer to give back after you return from the trip, via speaking engagements or other activities your supporters might be interested in having you participate in.

5 Simple Steps to Acquiring Sponsorship from Members of Your Community

This is a great way to help pay for Alternative Winter Break. It is easy, fun, and for some of you, something you already do on a regular basis. What you will be doing is getting people to sponsor you and support your commitment to taking action by forgoing your winter break to give back to the community instead.

Step One: Finding Pledges

Finding people to pledge money is a very important part of this kind of fundraising. Here is a list of some people who would be good to ask.

- Family (grandparents, parents, aunts, uncles, cousins, siblings, etc) and Family Friends
- Neighbors
- Friends and their parents
- Teachers
- Your synagogue congregation members and groups (brotherhoods and sisterhoods)

Step Two: Preparing a Letter or Script

Prepare something to say or a letter to write that explains what Alternative Winter Break is. When you are talking with potential donors make sure to describe tzedek (social justice) and tikkun olam (healing the world) as two of the foundations of Young Judaea beliefs and explain why you wanted to participate in this unique type of a trip over your winter break.

Step Three: Collecting Donations

Collecting donations is very simple and you have to remember to do it right. We would suggest keeping an envelope to make sure you do not lose any money and to stay organized so you know exactly what you need to raise.

Step Four: Following Up

After attending AWB you should send a letter to all your donors explaining and reflecting on the AWB program and thanking them for their support in making your participation possible.

Step Five: Continuing to Volunteer at Home

Plan a way to cultivate Jewish identity and social action in your community, such as:

- Volunteer a few hours at a senior citizens home
- Volunteer at a soup kitchen
- Hold a Young Judaea “cookie bake” to give to a homeless shelter.
- Help pick up garbage in a park
- Help clean your synagogue after Kiddush
- Distribute informative packets about the genocide in Darfur at your super market
- Run a Young Judaea event to make blankets for a children’s hospital

Note: If you plan on attempting this step after AWB, you should inform potential donors of your intentions when you are initially asking for their support. They may be even more inclined to fund your efforts if they know it will not only benefit your participation in the program, but will also benefit your own community after the fact.

As mentioned in the FAQ, your local Federation may have an opportunity for scholarship to attend programs like AWB. It would be difficult for us to list every Federation here. If you have trouble identifying yours, we will be happy to help you figure it out. Just contact us at winterbreak@youngjudaea.org

Some Other Helpful Fundraising Ideas

➤ Better World Books – <http://www.betterworldbooks.com>

Better World Books is a social venture organization that provides fundraising opportunities to students and campus groups who organize literacy book drives. The book drive benefits one of 3 literacy non-profit partners: Books for Africa, Room to Read, or The National Center for Family Literacy-Hurricane Relief Effort. Students receive a scholarships based on the number of books collected, and the funds are completely unrestricted. You can use the money earned by collecting books for literacy to fund your attendance at the YJ's AWB. By collecting used books you can save books from the landfills, promote literacy, earn a scholarship, and support a socially conscious enterprise. All donated books are sold online, donated directly, or at least recycled. Please contact reps@Betterworldbooks.com for more information on how you can use our book drive as a fundraiser for your AWB.

➤ Candy Sales – Various websites (ie <http://www.gatewayfundraising.com>)

There are national and regional companies which already have products packaged to sell as a fundraiser. These companies have prizes and profits for the group developed into a system. Many campus groups already have some sort of pre-developed fundraiser; therefore, you may be competing with other groups as you offer similar products to the campus over and over. This might inspire product sales or it might make it more difficult.

OTHER IDEAS

Change Bottles: This is plain and simple; collecting change donations for your participation in Alternative Winter Break. Have participants cut water bottles in half to collect that loose change. Place one at school, at your parent's work, at the local JCC, etc.

Collect cans, bottles & newspapers: Get friends to sponsor you for every can, bottle or 10 lbs of newspapers you collect. Contact a local metal/paper merchant and collect these items to sell them by weight. Keep aluminum & iron cans separate.

Dog Walk: Organize an interesting route for dogs and their owners. Have each dog sponsored. Have local businesses have water bowls and treats for the dogs along the route.

Adopt-A-Participant: Many schools have been successful in adapting the "Letters to Locals" idea to friends and family as well. Basically, you have participants write to friends, family, and business people that they know asking them to "adopt" them or other students during their alternative break. Send a card or flyer detailing the projects that their breaker will be involved with and promise to have the breaker send a card or letter from the site during their experience. Adopted breakers should also give some sort of presentation after their alternative break experience.

Money Tree: This is where a "tree" is set up in a well-trafficked part of your school, JCC, etc. A table is set up next to the tree where people can donate $1 to place a "homemade buck" on the tree. As the tree becomes more decorated people will be able to see an actual goal and be more motivated to donate money.

Letter Template Regarding the Value of Attending Alternative Winter Break

Hello!

My name is [your name] and I am a member of Young Judaea, the Zionist Youth Movement. Young Judaea has done amazing social action in the past, such as marching with Martin Luther King Jr. in 1963, the founding of Kibbutz Keturah in 1973, our movement to free Soviet Jewry in the 1980's, our petitioning to free the Israeli Missing in Action soldiers in the 1990's, and expanding Israel programs in the new century.

I am trying to do my part in strengthening the Jewish people by taking part in Young Judaea's 13th Annual Alternative Winter Break (AWB) in Puerto Rico. On Alternative Winter Break, I will join approximately 50 Jewish teens from around the country to learn about tikun olam (healing the world) while doing 20-25 hours of direct volunteering with communities devastated by disasters or suffering from homelessness and poverty. While on AWB, we will also make plans for how to bring these values and actions back to our own communities throughout the rest of the year.

I am reaching out to you to invest in my participation in AWB so I can return that investment through running Jewish social action programs here in [your city] and strengthen what your chapter/organization/synagogue is already doing. As it stands now, I need financial assistance in participating in this convention as the tuition fee is $550 and flights to Puerto Rico are very expensive. Any and all donations are welcomed and highly appreciated. I thank you for your time and your help and look forward to working with you in the future.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
